Statement from Daniel Hurley, CEO of the Michigan Association of State Universities, Regarding the Mass Shooting at MSU

“Michigan’s higher education community stands united in our grieving and our support for the students, faculty, staff, and the entire Michigan State University family in the aftermath of the tragic shooting that occurred last night on the university’s campus. Our hearts go out to the families who have lost loved ones and those who have been critically injured. The state universities of Michigan extend to the entire Michigan State University community their support as the healing process begins.”
